Return on Investment

Recently the suggested videos on my social media account have been about investment. Many “experts” discuss how to become a millionaire by the time of my retirement. The wide range of investment tips, some very complicated, made my head spin. I began to reflect on the fact that there are many experts who give direction on how to invest in the future on earth, but not many are giving suggestions on investment in heaven—where our real retirement takes place.

Our speaker at the March Vision Gala spoke about the return on investment by supporting CEF ministry, as he was also a product of CEF ministry when someone else invested for him to be equipped to reach children. Even though we do need financial support for the ministry to flourish, we have seen how God has used His people’s time and talent to give great “Return On Investment” (ROI) here on earth.

One of our 5-Day Club hostess shared with me, “We were concerned about reaching our neighborhood for Jesus this summer after finding out most of our neighbors are Hindu and were not willing to send their children to club. After much advertisement and prayer, we boldly stepped out and hosted the club for whoever was willing to come. We didn’t know what would come of it, but we wanted to be missionaries where God plants us. On the 3rd day, I saw my son sitting with the teenage teacher chatting after the Bible lesson. I didn’t think much of it, but then he came to me after club and said, “Mommy, I believed in Jesus today.” I was so surprised and amazed! I thought we hosted the club to be a blessing to our neighbors, but we were the first to receive the great blessing as our son was the first salvation decision that week.”

As most of our volunteers and club hosts realized, the ROI doesn’t have to wait until our eternal retirement in heaven. God is able to multiply our investments in sharing the gospel right here on earth—without complicated planning, but with willing heart and available hands. Will you plan and pray for your ROI for the Kingdom of God for 2027?

NEWS FROM THE FIELD

Sharing the Gospel

Hi Everyone!

Summer was full of excitement, and that momentum is continuing into Fall with Harvest Outreaches, Good News Clubs, and more opportunities to share the Gospel.

God has been faithful through every outreach! This past weekend, we visited two new locations back-to-back, reaching around 80 children with the Gospel. Even more exciting, seven children accepted Jesus as their Savior!

We also introduced our new “Superhero Quiz” booth activity, which really engaged the children. After having them guess different superhero symbols, we explained that while superheroes are imaginary, there is one true Hero with real power: God, who created everything! This opened the door to sharing the Gospel, and the children excitedly participated while parents listened along.

We’re excited for the many outreaches ahead! We’re also always looking for more volunteers who have a passion for outreach. We provide training on how to lead the Superhero Quiz, so if you’re interested in getting involved, please reach out to us!

My Good Shepherd

Summertime has always stirred a song of sweetness, warmth, and adventure in my soul. It just so happened the spiritual season God gave me this summer was much the same song. I ascribe each of those words to the 11 Clubs, various Outreaches, and truths He had for me this summer: sweet, warm, and adventurous!

Stepping into the Summer Missionary position, I was worried: “Am I physically capable of this, Lord? I'm the only new one here, Lord. Does this work? Why am I here?” Well, where He calls, He equips! Countless times He encouraged me through my coworkers’ kind words and kids’ smiles and questions. God gave me just enough to do each day and just enough time to rest for the next.

Then doubts kept arriving at my door. Midway through I hadn't lead any kids to the Lord. “Am I doing it wrong, God? I know this isn’t true, but it seems like I'm not accomplishing anything. Do You really want me here?” Like King David, I'm dramatic sometimes. Then a thought came: “Is it up to you?” “No, of course not Lord. I'll rejoice and be just as happy when others lead kids to You.” Wouldn't you know it, as I kept surrendering it all to the Lord, at the last 5-Day Club of my summer He let me lead two children into His family in one day!

He answered everything gently, sweetly, with one still-water adventure after another, like the Good Shepherd He is. He walked me through Psalm 23 this summer and solidified its truths in my heart. I wonder what He's waiting for you to surrender, to take you on a sweet adventure.

[Editor’s note: Aidan enjoyed his summer with CEF so much that he stayed on as our new Field Missionary!]

Mail Early!

IRS regulations require that end-of-year donations be postmarked by December 31 to count towards the 2026 tax year. A check dated December 31, but not postmarked until January 1, doesn’t count.

Last year, USPS changed their processes to be more efficient. The result is that donations you mail on December 31 might not get postmarked until January 1 or later! And credit card donations made on December 31 might not be processed until January 1.

If you want your tax deduction for 2026, don’t wait until the last minute!
